BITTER CAMPAIGN ENDS TONIGHT ON TV

Rehearsals To Begin June 3 For "Stars In My Crown"

It will be Hollywood, with a setting in Kentucky, is the way people describe the star-studded opening night festivities of "Stars In My Crown."

With rehearsals beginning on June 3 for the stage production of "Stars In My Crown," Dr. Kermit Hunter's entertaining drama of West Kentucky, the Board of Trustees of the association is now making plans for a gala opening night celebration for June 22.

James Futrell Final Rites Held Sunday

Final rites for Lt. James L. "Jimmy" Futrell were held Sunday at 2:00 p. m. in the Max Churchhill Funeral Chapel. Rev. J. D. Morrow of Owensboro officiated the service and interment was in the Hicks Cemetery.

Lt. Futrell, age 24, was killed while on a routine reconnaissance mission with his flight instructor. The two men were killed when their twin engine OV-1 Mohawk plane crashed into a field near Hazlet, Georgia.

Futrell was in his second week of an eight-week training course and was assigned to the 11th Air Reconnaissance Division at Fort Benning, Georgia.

Survivors are his wife, Brenda Beahm, Futrell, Owensboro; mother, Mrs. Vinella Futrell, Murray route five; daughter, Robin Lynn, age 15 months; and one brother, Joe Pat Futrell of Murray.

Full military and Masonic rites were accorded him.

The Max Churchhill Funeral Home had charge of the arrangements.

Dr. Rob Staples To Join Faculty Of Oklahoma College

Dr. Rob Lindal Staples of Hayward, California, is joining the faculty of Bethany Nazarene College of Bethany, Oklahoma, and will be teaching in the department of religion. Dr. Staples is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Staples of Kirksay, Kentucky.

Staples attended Kirksay High School from the first through the tenth grades. He finished high school and graduated from college at Trevecca Nazarene College, Nashville, Tennessee, graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in religion and was elected to Who's Who Among Students of American Colleges and Universities.

Following the close of the commencement exercises, he was married in the college chapel to a college senior and classmate, Miss Marcelle Cain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Cain of Big Clifty, Kentucky. After a short honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Staples moved to Kansas City, Missouri where Mrs. Staples taught school in the Kansas City School System and Mr. Staples attended Nazarene Theological Seminary, graduating with a Bachelor of Divinity degree and winner of the coveted prize, "The Mabel Sermon Award."

After graduation, the Staples moved to Bakersfield, California to pastor the Brentwood Church of the Nazarene. After three years at the Brentwood Church, Staples resigned to accept the call to pastor the First Church of the Nazarene at Hayward, California.

While pastoring at Hayward, Staples did graduate work at the Pacific School of Religion of Berkeley, California and took French and German at the University of California, also at Berkeley. On May 24th, Mrs. Staples graduated from the Pacific School of Religion with a Doctor of Theology degree. Mrs. Staples taught school in the Hayward City School System and is being granted lifetime California Teaching Credentials.

The Staples have two daughters, Karen Ann aged 8 and Lynda Jan aged 6.

The Staples will be leaving California about June 20th.

Charter and life members of the drama association were given the first opportunity to secure patron's subscriptions, Mr. Hurt said. Since the response to this opportunity has been so enthusiastic, the drama president added, it was thought that others would like to attend the festivities. Requests for patron's subscriptions must be sent to Mrs. Paul Westpheling, Box 486, Fulton, Kentucky. The price of patron's subscriptions is $25.00. Regular admission tickets for opening night will go on sale soon.

Dinah Shore Is Married Again

REDLANDS, Calif. (UPI) — Television star Dinah Shore was married Sunday to Palm Springs, Calif., contractor Maurice F. Smith—only two days after the blonde singer picked up the final divorce papers from her first marriage.

The wedding, attended by Miss Shore's two children, was as much a surprise to her friends in Hollywood as her separation from actor George Montgomery in December 1961.

She refused to say where they would honeymoon, but Smith said they probably would spend a week driving through northern California.

The quiet civil ceremony was performed at the home of Superior Judge Joseph Clano here. Besides Miss Shore's children, Melissa Ann, 16, and John David, 10, others attending were Smith's two sons, Dexter, 12, and Dana, 5.

Melissa Ann was maid of honor and Dexter was the best man.

"I hadn't thought of getting married this soon," the 45-year-old singer said, "but it was a woman's prerogative to change her mind."

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

LOS ANGELES — Integration leader Martin Luther King, Jr., at a "Freedom Rally for Birmingham".

"Segregation is nothing but a new form of slavery covered up with niceties. We have an ideal of freedom and human dignity. We want to be free whether we're in Birmingham or Los Angeles."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), joining 29 other Senators in a proposed resolution urging a U.S.-Soviet underwater and atmospheric nuclear test ban.

"This resolution is a major attempt to stuff the genie of radioactive contamination and proliferation of nuclear weapons capabilities back into the bottle where it belongs."

DUBLIN, Ireland — A spokesman for the town of New Ross, which is irked because President Kennedy will spend only 45 minutes in the community of his ancestors when he goes to Ireland.

"We feel the President is being hijacked all over the country."

VATICAN CITY — Pope John the XXIII on his 81st birthday last Nov. 25:

All days are good for being born, and all days are good for dying."

Butter Fingers Result In Mess For NL Flag

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press International
Three butter-fingered ballplayers sure messed up the National League race on Sunday.

The culprits were shortstop Jose Pagan of the San Francisco Giants and outfielder Duke Carmel and pitcher Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, but before climbing all over them or suggesting they sell their gloves, be advised they ordinarily do a fine job on defense.

Not Sunday, though. Pagan committed three errors and his last one in the 10th inning enabled the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers to beat the first-place Giants, 4-3. And since their league lead to two games.

Carmel and Gibson each made errors during the 11th inning of a nightcap against the New York Mets, helping Casey Stengel's crew snap a seven-game losing streak and defeat the third-place Cardinals for the first time this season, 3-2. The Cards won the opener, 7-4.

Bad All Around
It was a miserable day all around for Pagan, who went hitless at the plate, set up one Dodger run with a wild throw in the fourth inning and let in the tying run with another bad peg in the seventh.

With Don Larsen pitching in the 10th, Jim Gilliam bounced a routine grounder to Pagan, who then threw wild again, allowing Gilliam to go all the way to second from where he scored the winning run on Tommy Davis' single.

Winner Don Drysdale (6-4) gave up eight hits, including solo homers by Jim Davenport and Felipe Alou. In the Mets-Cards nightcap, Carmel, who had replaced left-fielder Stan Musial in the 10th, muffed Charley Neal's 11th inning fly for a two-base error. Chico Fernandez then bunted toward the mound and Gibson fired wildly past first base for another two-base error that scored Neal with the winning run.

The defeat cost the Cardinals a chance to move within 3 games of first place after they beat the Mets in the opener on a three-run homer by pinch hitter Chas. James in the eighth inning. St. Louis bombed four of five Met pitchers for 16 hits, including five by Ken Boyer and four by Bill White.

Phil's Win Pair
In other National League games the Philadelphia Phillies swept a twin-bill from the Cincinnati Reds 10-4 and 3-0; the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Milwaukee Braves, 5-2, in 11 innings; and the Chicago Cubs downed the Houston Colts, 5-1.

Over in the American League, the first-place Baltimore Orioles took two from the Cleveland Indians, 10-4 and 6-1; the New York Yankees beat the Washington Senators, 7-1, but dropped the nightcap, 7-6; the Detroit Tigers trounced the Boston Red Sox, 12-3, then lost the nightcap, 6-5; the Minnesota Twins defeated the Chicago White Sox, 5-2, and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Kansas City A's, 6-4.

Ray Culp, a 21-year old bonus rookie pitcher who received $100,000 for signing, and 36-year old veteran Roy Sievers, who was given only a new pair of baseball shoes for signing his first major league contract, were the standouts in the Phillies' sweep of the Reds.

Fans Twelve
Culp struck out 12 batters and set down the Reds on three hits in recording his fifth victory in the nightcap while Sievers delivered a pinch grand slam homer in the eighth inning to clinch the opener.

The grand slam was the 19th of Sievers' career, tying him with Cleveland's Joe Adcock for top spot among the active players. Joey Jay suffered his eighth loss against one victory in the second game.

Home runs by Ron Santo and Ken Hubbs paced the Cubs to victory over the Colts. Santo's sixth homer in the fifth inning with one man on sent loser Dick Drott to the showers and Hubbs belted his fourth homer in the seventh off Don McMahon.

Summertime
In the opener he hurled two hitless innings and struck out two of the four Cleveland batters he faced after the Indians had hit starter Steve Barber for nine hits and six runs in 3½ innings.

Summoned from the bullpen again in the nightcap, Stock shut out Cleveland on one hit over the last three innings as teammate Boog Powell broke a 1-all tie with an eighth inning single off loser Jim (Mudcat) Grant. Jackie Brandt tripled home two more runs in the same frame.

Jim Gentile's two-run single capped a three-run seventh inning rally that decided the opener. Gentile also belted a two-run homer in the fourth that helped Dick Donovan suffer his third loss in five decisions. Brooks Robinson also homered for Baltimore.

Senators Win One
Elsewhere in the American circuit, the Washington Senators won their first game under new manager Gil Hodges and ended an eight-game losing streak with a 7-6 nightcap victory after the New York Yankees won their sixth in a row, 7-1, in the opener.

The Detroit Tigers beat the Boston Red Sox, 12-3, in the first of two, but dropped the nightcap, 6-5; the Minnesota Twins made it seven in a row with a 5-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox, and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Kansas City A's, 6-4.

In the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers cut the San Francisco Giants' lead to two games by beating them, 4-3, in 10 innings; the Philadelphia Phillies swept a pair from the Cincinnati Reds, 10-4 and 3-0; the Pittsburgh Pirates mauled the Milwaukee Braves, 5-2, in 11 innings; the Chicago Cubs beat the Houston Colts, 5-1, and the New York Mets snapped a seven-game losing streak by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2, in an 11-inning finale after the Cards won the opener, 7-4.

First High-Speed Road To Eastern Kentucky

SMOOTH, SAFE, AND MODERN stretch of The Mountain Parkway, now open 43 miles from Winchester to Campton, gives little hint of the engineering problems which had to be overcome. Construction was "cut and fill" for much of the 43 miles. In recent dedication ceremonies Gov. Bert Combs called the Parkway a lasting symbol of the perseverance and hopes of the mountain people. The Governor said "it will pay for itself—not only financially but by answering the dreams of a people too long isolated, by rewarding their hopeful patience, and by instilling in them new hope and confidence for the future." This 43-mile section cost $40.5 million. Another toll section is now being constructed between Campton and Salyersville, a distance of 33 miles. It will be opened this year. Two major freeway access roads from Campton 80 miles to Whitesburg and from Salyersville 46 miles to Pikeville are in the construction stage.

Baltimore Orioles Call Stock An All-American Out And That Term Applies More Than 1 Way

By MILTON RICHMAN

United Press International
The league - leading Baltimore Orioles call Wes Stock "The All-American out" and that applies not only to his abysmal hitting but also to his incredible pitching.

As a hitter, Stock is strictly an out man and a formidable threat to Hank Aguirre's title as the worst in the American League.

Stock still is looking for his first major league hit even though this is his fifth season with the Orioles. As a relief pitcher, the 29-year old right-hander also is an out man, but of a completely different variety.

He won both ends of a doubleheader in Sunday's 10-6 and 6-1 sweep over the Cleveland Indians and ran his season record to 5-0.

In the opener he hurled two hitless innings and struck out two of the four Cleveland batters he faced after the Indians had hit starter Steve Barber for nine hits and six runs in 3½ innings.

Summoned from the bullpen again in the nightcap, Stock shut out Cleveland on one hit over the last three innings as teammate Boog Powell broke a 1-all tie with an eighth inning single off loser Jim (Mudcat) Grant. Jackie Brandt tripled home two more runs in the same frame.

Jim Gentile's two-run single capped a three-run seventh inning rally that decided the opener. Gentile also belted a two-run homer in the fourth that helped Dick Donovan

Dear Abby...

SHE MIGHT START A NEW VOGUE!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me what is the matter with the fashion world today? I am planning to be married this summer. I have been all over town trying to find a dressy fitted suit in which to be married and there is not one to be had. Everything I have seen has a short boxy jacket, which is too sporty. Now I am not criticizing Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, because she looks good in short boxy jackets, but why does every woman in the country have to dress like Jackie Kennedy? I am sure I am not the only woman who feels this way. I admire her, but I don't want to dress like her. I will get married in a burlap dress before I buy one of those boxy suits. Please, Dear Abby, come to our rescue and get the fashion world on the ball so we can have a variety of styles to choose from.

DEAR OUT: If a store doesn't have what you want, ask the buyer to order it for you. If he can't order it, find yourself a pattern and make it. If you can't sew—find someone who can. If you give up and wear a "burlap bag," you're STILL looking like Jackie Kennedy. I understand that's what she's going to be wearing this summer.

DEAR ABBY: I am the treasurer of the 11th grade at my school and I sort of lost $42.69, and I don't know what to do. Could you please give me some advice? Thank you.

DEAR WORKED: As treasurer of the class, the responsibility of the money is yours. Sort of "borrow" it from your father and pay him back if you have to work all summer.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and have been going with this guy for four years. We planned to be married in June but he got his papers to take a physical and, after 21 days, they can draft him any time. I want to get married, stay home and work until he's out of boot camp, save the allotment checks and then join him when he gets stationed. He wants to wait two years and then get married. I say if he loves me as much as I love him, he'll marry me now. It's not a money problem. He has a big sum in the bank. What do you advise me to do? Please print the same trouble.

DEAR NOT: A girl who has to convince her boy friend that he should marry her is usually sorry if she wins.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, California and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby

Destined To Be Mid-America's Most Scenic Drive

SCENIC 43 miles of The Mountain Parkway from Winchester to Campton was dedicated recently by Gov. Bert Combs who predicted it would become known as "one of the most beautiful, scenic drives in mid-America." This four-lane section cost $40.5 million. Under construction now is another toll section from Campton 33 miles to Salyersville, and two major freeway access roads. The freeways run from Campton 80 miles to Whitesburg and from Salyersville 46 miles to Pikeville. The Campton-Salyersville section will be opened later this year.

HE THINKS HE'S ROBBING A BANK—The man at left has just handed Bank of America teller Vera Deegan a note in San Francisco, demanding the money. She didn't co-operate, he walked out, and was quickly arrested. John Cassidy, by name. The others in the concealed camera photo are unaware of what is happening. What apparently is a double exposure shows headless woman in front of woman at right.

CROWN PRINCESS—The former Hope Cooke of New York, now crown princess of the tiny Himalayan principality of Sikkim, and her husband, Crown Prince Thondup Namgyal, deplane in Vienna after a flight from Moscow.

Dear Abby . . .

SHE MIGHT START A NEW VOGUE!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Could you please tell me what is the matter with the fashion world today? I am planning to be married this summer. I have been all over town trying to find a dressy fitted suit in which to be married and there is not one to be had. Everything I have seen has a short, boxy jacket, which is too sporty. Now I am not criticizing Mrs. Jackie Kennedy, because she looks good in short boxy jackets, but why does every woman in the country have to dress like Jackie Kennedy? I am sure I am not the only woman who feels this way. I admire her, but I don't want to dress like her. I will get married in a burlesque dress before I buy one of those boxy suits. Please, Dear Abby, come to our rescue and get the fashion world on the ball so we can have a variety of styles to choose from.

OUT OF VOGUE
DEAR OUT: If a store doesn't have what you want, ask the buyer to order it for you. If he can't order it, find yourself a pattern and make it. If you can't sew—find someone who can. If you give up and wear a "burlesque bag," you'll still look like Jackie Kennedy. I understand that's what she's going to be wearing this summer.

DEAR ABBY: I am the treasurer of the 11th grade at my school and I sort of lost $42.69, and I don't know what to do. Could you please give me some advice? Thank you.

WORRIED
DEAR WORRIED: As treasurer of the class, the responsibility of the money is yours. Sort of "borrow" it from your father and pay him back if you have to work all summer.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and have been going with this guy for four years. We planned to be married in June but he got his papers to take a physical and, after 21 days, they can draft him any time. I want to get married, stay home and work until he's out of boot camp, save the allotment checks and then join him when he gets stationed. He wants to wait two years and then get married. I say if he loves me as much as I love him, he'll marry me now. It's not a money problem. He has a big gun in the bank. What do you advise me to do? Please print the same trouble.

NOT SURE
DEAR NOT: A girl who has to convince her boy friend that he should marry her is usually sorry if she wins.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, California and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby

FINISHED? — It is unlikely that Veterans Rep. Francis E. Walter (above), D-Pa., will ever return to work, is the word from Dr. Darrell C. Crain. Walter has been in Georgetown Hospital several weeks, is "definitely better," but Dr. Crain would neither confirm nor deny reports Walter has leukemia.

The New EMILIE LORING Follow Your Heart

CHAPTER 26
Jim Trevis still did not know when, if any of the governor could be cleared of suspicion of robbing the Institute. From day to day, Roger Clayton had looked more anxious. There had been a trapped expression on Abraham Allen's face when Jim had told him his suspicions. William Bennett had had a heart attack because of one very heated argument with his son. Then Chester had taken advantage of his father's illness to go to the Institute. All of them, then, working together? But in that case, why had Clayton informed Garrison of Gillian Bellamy's "accidents"? So that he would appear to be in the clear, no matter what happened? Jim frowned. What he needed now was to talk to Garrison, tell him what he had learned and ask his advice. But where could he make his call? The telephone in Mapleville were nearly all on party lines. He could not call from the Clayton's private wire without the risk of being overheard, on one of the extensions, by someone in the house. He went swiftly down the street and paused at the door of Sally Meam's shabby house. His heart pounded as he thought of this trusting woman, hard-working and kindly, who had lost her savings. He vowed to see that his father reimbursed her within a week. At least that much could be set right without any further delay. There was a mouth-watering smell of baking bread. Mrs. Meam flung open the door. "May I come in?" "Of course. I got behind with my baking today. One jiffy and I'll have it out of the oven. Hot rolls just fresh out of the oven and a strawberry shortcake. Enough for four and there's only Miss Thompkins. Will you stay?" Jim grinned, amused. "It suits me right down to the ground. But how about your lodger?" "Where else can she eat like that?" Mrs. Meam demanded. "I noticed Miss Thompkins came back last night. She added hopefully, 'Have a fight?'" "She found out I was a chauffeur and she didn't like it," Mrs. Meam hesitated, her kindly face troubled. "Jim, it's none of my business why you are here or what you are doing. When you came to see me that first day and told me you were staying here under another name I promised I wouldn't give you away. I haven't. Not even to Gillian Bellamy, though when you showed up with her I nearly fell over. Only I've just got to say it. I hope you're not still in it. I guess you're in love, aren't you?" "Head over heels," he told her. "Now may I use your telephone for some long-distance calls?" "Sure. It's a private wire and I've got that booth with a door on it for my lodgers. No one can overhear you. Help yourself." After a struggle with the long-distance operator, Jim reached Hendrick Freelon in Cincinnati. He told his story succinctly. Then he held the telephone away from his ear while the Ohio art collector let loose a blast of sheer rage. When he had run out of breath, Jim asked what he intended to do. "I'll come East as soon as I can get away and I'll clear this up if it's the last thing I ever do. I've built one of the finest private collections in this country and there's never been a question about a single item in it. Shown good? If you're right, I intend to make someone sweat for this." "Thank you, sir. That's good news. I'm expecting to see some fireworks." "Fireworks!" snorted the irate collector. "If there's anything wrong with that Praxiteles bust you're going to see fireworks in action." Jim was grinning to himself as he dialed Garrison's unlisted home number in New York. Things were beginning to move at last. "Well, Trevor," Garrison said eagerly. "Now are you making out up there? Have you picked up any ideas?" "Quite a few, sir. Is it convenient for you to listen now? This may take some time." "There's nothing more urgent, more important. Take as long as you like. I must say I didn't like what that insurance fellow, Hartman, told me about the fire on that piece of property of Miss Bellamy's. How did it strike you?" Jim had already marshaled his facts and he gave them as quickly as possible, leaving out nothing, and ending with a summary of his own conclusions. There was a thoughtful pause when he had finished. Then Garrison surprised him. He chuckled. "It's the Wicks case all over again. Left to your own devices you choose unorthodox methods but you certainly get results. I foresee a big future for you, Trevor." "Thank you, sir." "Now I'll give you what our investigators have managed to dig up from the New York end. Roger Clayton seems to be a financial difficulties. He has overextended and his colleagues are getting badly worried. Some of them are already trying to pull out before they lose their shirts." "Well, well," Jim said softly. "Abraham Allen appears to be suitably fixed. He'll never be in danger of overextending, from all accounts. He's careful of spending a penny. Reputation for being ambitious but very cautious." "Uh-huh." "William Bennett is retired. Sold his New York gallery to a fellow named Norman Oliver Noonan. He can't attract the same caliber of established artists that Bennett had but he seems to be doing nicely with younger painters at lower prices. Quantity sales rather than quality." "So," Jim said thoughtfully. "Clayton is the one who needs the money." "Looks like it. Looks like it. I'm surprised, frankly. I've known him for years and he struck me as having his feet on the ground. Well, keep in touch, my boy, and if you need any help we can supply from New York don't hesitate to call on us." Jim put down the telephone. Mrs. Meam was arranging fresh-cut flowers in a vase in her old-fashioned sitting room. "Suppose Penn Manor should be opened up again," Jim said suddenly. "Would you like to go back there as the housekeeper? You'd have to work so all you'd have to do would be the directing." Her round pleasant face flushed uncomfortably. She smoothed her apron, avoiding his eyes. "We-ell," she began, embarrassed. "I'm doing right well on my own. I'm kind of used to it now." "There's something I want to tell you about my father," he said quietly. "But first—I want to know exactly how much money you lost through that oil swindle he was involved in." The kindly face was troubled. "Eight thousand dollars," she said reluctantly. "That money should have been returned to you before now," Jim said. "It will come at once. My father wanted it to be returned long ago. He did his best to make restitution but Mr. Allen told him no one here would have any further dealings with him." "No one ever knew that," Mrs. Meam said. "Mr. Allen didn't tell anyone, or I'd have heard about it. In fact, he was the one who said your father had made money out of that deal." Incautious talkers enable Jim to overhear a conversation that makes what's happening at the Institute understandable. Continue the novel here tomorrow.

VOTE TOM HARRIS

Commissioner of Agriculture
ON MAY 28

The Best Qualified Man Ever to Run for
This Office in Kentucky!

As a lifelong livestock and tobacco farmer, and a graduate of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, Tom Harris knows farmers' problems from both book and plow, and knows farm values as well as farm problems. He's

- ★ Partner in a 600-acre Carroll County farm
- ★ Owner of a dairy herd and a beef herd
- ★ Partner in a tobacco warehouse where he "starts" every pile of tobacco and protects farmers' prices
- ★ Skilled as a cattle judge—the only man ever asked to judge the National Jersey Show in Columbus and the Canadian Royal in Toronto the same year
- ★ Chairman, Board of Directors, 1st National Bank of Carrollton

In addition to being a successful farmer and business man, he's a family man, a veteran, and a civic-minded, public-spirited citizen of Kentucky.

LET'S ELECT TOM HARRIS
... IT MEANS MUCH TO FARMING IN KENTUCKY
... AND MUCH TO EVERY KENTUCKIAN WHO BUYS, PROCESSES, OR EATS FOOD.
